

Northshore Christian Academy Outcomes at Archbishop Murphy High School

Academic and School Involvement Perspective

"NCA students arrive at Archbishop Murphy High School prepared for our rigorous high school curriculum. We measure their success by virtue of their impressive GPA (NCA graduates are currently earning an average 3.7 GPA at Archbishop Murphy) and PSAT scores (NCA alum Sam Meyers is a 2015 National Merit Semi-Finalist), balanced with their role in our school. NCA alumni serve the AMHS community as class officers, club presidents, retreat leaders, student-athletes, performing artists, and servant leaders. Not only do our NCA alumni fulfill their service hours each year, they are active leaders in our Campus Ministry and Acts of Random Kindness (ARK) programs. On behalf of our entire school family, I would like to thank the Northshore Christian Academy for blessing our community with these amazing young men and women."

Admissions Perspective

"We love our students from Northshore Christian Academy. They arrive to Archbishop Murphy High School already incredibly well-rounded and continue to be very involved throughout their four years here. They are active in a variety of co-curriculars, from Mock Trial Team to Choir to an assortment sports. It's easy to see that they have not only been taught the importance of a diverse resume, but have developed the skills needed to manage a wide assortment of activities on top of a rigorous college-prep class load."

--AMHS Director of Admissions, Katy Cobean

College Matriculation

"Over the last five years, Northshore Christian Academy graduates who have attended Archbishop Murphy High School have continued their educational journey at the following universities: Hope College, Purdue University, University of Washington, Pacific Lutheran University, Gonzaga University, Washington State University, Seattle University, New College of Florida- Honors College, Eastern Washington University, and University of Michigan."
